wednesday afternoon's rain sent a terrific amount of water from the mountrinsides down upon many of the lower sections of the city and again did considerable camage. Montana street, Boslevard and several streets running in an easterly and westerly di-rection had much trash and dirt and waters in Aftura Park and Highland Purk.

A bridge in Altura on the Country Chib road that leads up through Manhattan Helghis was wasned out by the floods. Several other bridges in that section were also taken out.

The Hoods again washed much sand and gravel over the county road near the five-mile bridge.

The rain extended almost all the way to Las Cruces and it was heavy all the way up. J. I. McCulleugh, who returned from Las Cruces in his automobile yestlarday afternoon, said the water ran over the bridge at Anthony it was so high, and that it washed sand and gravel onto the paved road at many points.

ESTATE AWAITS MISSING

According to a letter received by police chief I. N. Davis, an estate awaits D. J. Moloney, a former railroad conductor with a run out of Houston. The letter to the chief is from Mrs. George S. Balley, 1611 Hickory street, Houston, who writes that unless Moloney is found soon he will lose his interest in the estate. The last heard of the man he was in El Passo.
